Public Safety Director Reports 31 Estimated to Die In Traffic Accidents During Fourth of July Holiday

Austin — The Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety today reported that DPS estimates indicate that 31 persons will die in traffic accidents during the three-day Fourth of July holiday, and cited incidents from last year's Independence Day holiday as examples of how these mishaps might oocur.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS director, said the estimate was compiled by the DPS Statitical Services on the basis of past experience and the current trend of traffic deaths. Last year, 28 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents during the holiday period.

"On the first day of last year's holiday period, "Garrison said, "a speeding driver lost control of his car and struck a guard rail. His car flipped high into the air and landed upside down. A passenger was killed.

"In another accident, a car pulled from a country road onto a major highway, directly into the path of an oncoming truck. The truck skidded 134 feet but couldn't stop in time. The driver of the car was killed.

"In still a third fatal accident, one car attempted to pass another on the right hand side. The car in front moved to the right, causing the passer to swerve, lose control and overturn. One person was killed, one was injured.

"Our files contain the details of each tragedy," he continued, "and each of them is made even more tragic by the fact that, with proper awareness, they could have possibly been avoided."

Garrison pointed out that the responsibility for avoiding an accident rests with each individual driver.

"Most drivers are basically good drivers", he said. "But too often even the best driver lets his attention wander. . . and lack of attention to one's driving can be a fatal fault. . . for instance, last year one man was driving a car with five children as passengers. He entered a curve too fast, hit his brakes and lost control of his car. The vehicle overturned, killing one of the children."

To focus attention on the added dangers of holiday travel and the need for awareness while driving, the DPS will conduct "Operation Motorcide" during the holiday period. From 12:01 a. m., Saturday, July 2, through 11:59 p. m., Monday, July 4, traffic fatalities will be tabulated by the Department and the totals will be announced officially three times daily as a means of keeping safety uppermost in the minds of the motoring public.

"If each driver will assume an attitude of watchfulness and awareness toward the actions of other drivers," Garrison said, "the number of accidents can be materially reduced. paying attention could well make the difference of a split-second between a near-miss and a fatal crash."

As a part of the DPS' operation, calling for maximum enforcement and public support, additional personnel from other uniformed services of the DPS will augment the regular Highway Patrol force.

In addition, Garrison added, numerous agencies, organizations and individuals will help in the coordinated program to cut down on traffic accidents by taking part in the "Operation Motorcide."

The Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Texas Motor Transportation Association will conduct a "Holiday Road Patrol" in which a fleet of 35 to 40 cars will be used over the state to assist stranded motorists, thus relieving highway patrolmen for enforcement work.

The Texas Safety Association will stress the need for awareness and acceptance of responsibility on the road, and will coordinate local safety council holiday safety programs calling for cooperation with law enforcement officials to cut down on the number of traffic deaths.

The Texas Highway Department will conduct an information education program stressing the need for caution in and around construction areas and on freeways. They will utilize special area construction maps and bulletins to warn drivers of hazardous conditions in special areas.

FAIRVIEW NEWS...

By Mrs. Elmer Joiner

I refuse to comment on the weather this morning, the last time I did that it got better, so anything is worth a try right now to get a rain. The little crops just up, and those plowed out, all look pretty, some maize has headed out, wheat is all out with the ground broken.

The best news out our way is about our friend and neighbor, George Wainscott, who has been seriously ill in Hendrick Hospital, having spent 36 days there this last time. Last Tuesday he started getting better and once the healing started, he got better quickly, being able to come home Sunday morning. After two operations followed by complications, the last stay was of thirty six days. This time last week his condition was very serious, this week he is home, showing how quickly our old bodies can respond sometimes, We are all so glad for him and his family, and hope for him a speedy recovery from here out.

We also wish to report on the condition of another old friend and neighbor of our community, Miss Berdie Agnew, who recently had surgery at Scott and White clinic at Temple. She had a benign tumer removed from her neck. She has been recuperating in Stamford at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ira Treadwell, and is doing well after having some complications. Miss Agnew teaches physical education in the Denver City school system, in far West Texas. This in itself is almost a miracle, since she has gone through more major surgeries than she would like to admit, in her search for health, and we know how bad health plagued her youth, for she used to scare me to death when we were girls. By grit and determination and the grace of God she has overcome sickness and led a wonderful life. We know she is a little shy about praise, but we all think a woman that has helped this world as much as she has by living in it, should have a great big bouquet.

Linda Goodwin and the other two girls that were with her, returned home Friday from Norman, Okla. where they attended twirling school. They reported a very nice time, meeting girls from several states.

The Tri-Church W. M. U. met at Neinda last Wednesday morning with seven women in the meeting, two caring for the several children present. A good program was enjoyed on "My Family-Witnessing in the Community". The next meeting will be on July 13, with Fairview Church. This will be the night meeting.

Mrs. Woodrow Goodwin and Mrs. Winson Gray attended the monthly meeting of the workers conference, held in Trinity church, in Stamford, last Tuesday. They also met with the W. M. U. at 5:30 and reported a very nice program.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Joiner were Hamlin visitors again over the weekend, having come for their children, Jerry and Susan, who had spent two weeks here. Ronald Joiner, Stamford, spent two days last week with his grandparents and playing with his little cousin, Susan.

Jimmy Wainscott left Monday to return to his base in the Hawaiian Islands, after a months furlough. Since he acquired a wife while home leaving will be extremely hard, but when Uncle Sam says come back, all you can do is go. At least he can leave knowing his Dad is better, there is always something good about everything.

A Life Saver

Parents would not dream of permitting their children to venture out on the waters without some protection. Yet, only too many of these same parents do not prepare their children for the dangers of everyday life. The Bible says: "Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand."

Begin now, to safeguard your children by taking them to church.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH — THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Research Shows Bollworms Have Resistance to Most Insecticides

The battle between cotton farmers and insects goes on. In some cases it seems that no sooner is a good insecticide developed than the persistant cotton insects develop an immunity to it, says Jones County Agent, Kirby Clayton. And so the fight continues — the farmer holding the upper hand for a while, then the insects.

From Texas A & M University comes the latest report on resistance of the bollworm and tobacco budworm to chemical insecticides. It's not good.

Texas A & M researchers, Perry Adkinson, professor, and S. J. Nemec, Research assistant, have completed work indicating the bollworm have developed a temendous resistance in the last few years to the most commonly used insecticides.

They say the main reason most growers prevented damaging loses last year with insecticides was because the insect population was small. The A & M researchers say effective control this year will be difficult if a full-scale insect attack comes and if growers use insecticides to which insects have become immune.

In A & M tests to determine resistance, the bollworm and tobacco budworm were raised on a wheat germ diet at College Station. Then, various insecticides were applied to the insects and the number of deaths recorded 48 hours after treatment.

In 1964 tests, A & M researchers noted a 90 percent kill on bollworms with Toxaphene — DDT, Strobane — DDT and endrin. Sevin had a 93 percent kill in 1964.

The picture worsened in 1965. In these tests, Toxaphene — DDT and endrin had only a 52 percent kill on bollworms. Strobane — DDT had only 47 percent kill and Sevin showed a 76 percent kill.

It's the same story for budworms. In all cases, the insects were more resistant to the insecticides in 1965 than in 1964.

A report issued by A & M notes the bollworm is 33 thousand times as resistant to DDT now as in 1960. Bollworms are 13 times as resistant to endrin, 20 times as resistant to strobane — DDT, 11 times as resistant to toxaphene — DDT and 4.5 times as resistant to Sevin as they were in 1960.

What does this mean to the farmer? According to Jones County Agent, Kirby Clayton, it means some of the previously used insecticides wont's do the job this year if there is high insect population. Clayton said it means farmers should follow Extension reccommendations on which insecticides to use.

He said the Extension recommendations this year for bollworms and budworms are: Strobane — DDT — methyl parathion or Azodrin.

At A & M, researchers have combined several insecticides in an attempt to come up with a winning combination to effectively control the pests.

In the 1965 tests, results indicate methyl parathion mixed with endrin, Sevin, Strobane — DDT or toxaphen — DDT show promise for controlling the two species. Azodrin alone was a potent killer of bollworm and tobacco budworm larvae when used in suitable dosages.

This year, no doubt, insects may be even more resistant — cotton growers are going to have to be wide-awake to stay ahead in the battle.

County-Wide Meet

"Emotional Problems and What Can Be Done" will be discussed by Dr. Max Leach, head of the Physcology Department at ACC, at a county wide meeting on Tuesday June 28 at 2:30 at the Anson First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall, according to Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones county home demonstration agent. Everyone is invited to attend this meeting that was recommended by the Jones county Home demonstration women and the Program Building Committee. Refreshments will follow the meeting.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

....Austin — State Board of Insurance is disturbed over the "growing tendency" of some insurance companies to cancel out or refuse to renew auto coverage on certain classes of drivers.

At its mid-week (June 15) rate hearing Board debated whether it should ask for new legislation or put into effect new administrative regulations to deal with the situation.

Board Chairman Wm. Hunter McLean said more and more drivers are being forced into higher-cost "assigned risk plan" coverage because of "unwillingness of companies to voluntarily issue insurance to young drivers, older drivers and drivers with poor driving records."

Another insurance rate boost is anticipated due to increasing accidents, injuries and traffic deaths, and higher repair and hospital costs. Rates were boosted 13.4 per cent in 1965.

McLean placed these among items for consideration at the mid-week meeting:

Revival of a "penalty system" based on number of accidents and serious traffic violations in figuring rates. A version of the system was abanded four years ago after a brief trial and strong public opposition.

Alteration of the assigned risk plan to force all companies to take a proportionate share of "sub-standard" risk coverage.

Action to curb mass cancellation due to class, age, territory or agency and individual cancellations of policies of those who have no record of accidents or moving traffic violations.

Request for more uniform traffic regulations and enforcement procedures from county to county.

Modifications in methods of classifying drivers.

Board wants to find a way to 'avoid further 'drying up' of the insurance market," emphasized McLean.

Companies writing auto insurance in Texas lost $13,000,000 last year on the coverage. McLean calculated earned premiums at $417,200,000, net premiums at $388,000,000, losses at $233,200,000, loss settlement, adjustment and litigation expenses at $42,600,000 and company "expenses" at $125,000,000.

He termed "an all-out, effective traffic accident prevention program" the state's "single greatest need."

McLean said he would urge the insurance industry to take the lead in "bringing safety to our streets and highways."

New Taxes? — A state tax rate boost next year is inevitable, according to House Speaker Ben Barnes.

He predicted the 60th Legislature will "definitely face tax legislation."

Barnes declared that increasing cost of education alone will "require additional monies raised by taxes." Forty-eight per cent of every tax dollar paid to the state goes to education, he noted.

In a brief preview of his own ideas for legislative action, Barnes said he will ask an increase in juvenile parole officers to help curb teenage crime. He noted a study committee is exploring possible need of legislation dealing with obscene and pornographic publications.

Only Minor Insect Damage Reported By Survey Team

The Insect Survey team, composed of James Kyzar and Donald Flemming checked 28 cotton fields in Jones County this past week and reported only minor damage from cutworms, army worms, fleahoppers, and thirps according to Jones County Agent, Kirby Clayton. One field, on the Bernea Reed farm, near Hamlin, thirps were reported rather severe and causing some stunting of young cotton.

The cotton insect team is working under the supervision of Jones County Agent, Kirby Clayton and is sponsored by The Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

County Agent, Kirby Clayton urges farmers to be on the lookout during the next two weeks for overwintered weevils. If they appear in the fields, farmers are urged to spot treat the first few rows near the hibernation areas with a reccommended insecticide before squares reach the one third grown stage to prevent egg laying. This practice could prevent several sprayings in later season.

Spin-Fishing Tip—Those loose coils of line that form around your spinning reel spool, when you're retrieving a surface lure, may be avoided by putting more tension on the line as you reel it in.

You can keep up this tension with the fingers, or by holding the rod tip high.

Clean That Fly Line—You can get the same results, if not better, by cleaning a fly line well, instead of dressing it with floatant. Quite often the floatant collects dirt which weights the line.

Public Safety Director Reports 31 Estimated to Die In Traffic Accidents During Fourth of July Holiday

Austin — The Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety today reported that DPS estimates indicate that 31 persons will die in traffic accidents during the three-day Fourth of July holiday, and cited incidents from last year's Independence Day holiday as examples of how these mishaps might occur.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS director, said the estimate was compiled by the DPS Statitical Services on the basis of past experience and the current trend of traffic deaths. Last year, 28 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents during the holiday period.

"On the first day of last year's holiday period, "Garrison said, "a speeding driver lost control of his car and struck a guard rail. His car flipped high into the air and landed upside down. A passenger was killed.

"In another accident, a car pulled from a country road onto a major highway, directly into the path of an oncoming truck. The truck skidded 134 feet but couldn't stop in time. The driver of the car was killed.

"In still a third fatal accident, one car attempted to pass another on the right hand side. The car in front moved to the right, causing the passer to swerve, lose control and overturn. One person was killed, one was injured.

"Our files contain the details of each tragedy," he continued, "and each of them is made even more tragic by the fact that, with proper awareness, they could have possibly been avoided."

Garrison pointed out that the responsibility for avoiding an accident rests with each individual driver.

"Most drivers are basically good drivers", he said. "But too often even the best driver lets his attention wander. . . and lack of attention to one's driving can be a fatal fault. . . for instance, last year one man was driving a car with five children as passengers. He entered a curve too fast, hit his brakes and lost control of his car. The vehicle overturned, killing one of the children."

To focus attention on the added dangers of holiday travel and the need for awareness while driving, the DPS will conduct "Operation Motorcide" during the holiday period. From 12:01 a. m., Saturday, July 2, through 11:59 p. m., Monday, July 4, traffic fatalities will be tabulated by the Department and the totals will be announced officially three times daily as a means of keeping safety uppermost in the minds of the motoring public.

"If each driver will assume an attitude of watchfulness and awareness toward the actions of other drivers," Garrison said, "the number of accidents can be materially reduced. paying attention could well make the difference of a split-second between a near-miss and a fatal crash."

As a part of the DPS' operation, calling for maximum enforcement and public support, additional personnel from other uniformed services of the DPS will augment the regular Highway Patrol force.

In addition, Garrison added, numerous agencies, organizations and individuals will help in the coordinated program to cut down on traffic accidents by taking part in the "Operation Motorcide."

The Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Texas Motor Transportation Association will conduct a "Holiday Road Patrol" in which a fleet of 35 to 40 cars will be used over the state to assist stranded motorists, thus relieving highway patrolmen for enforcement work.

The Texas Safety Association will stress the need for awareness and acceptance of responsibility on the road, and will coordinate local safety council holiday safety programs calling for cooperation with law enforcement officials to cut down on the number of traffic deaths.

The Texas Highway Department will conduct an information education program stressing the need for caution in and around construction areas and on freeways. They will utilize special area construction maps and bulletins to warn drivers of hazardous conditions in special areas.

School to Open Here August 29

The fall school term will begin here Aug. 29, according to Supt. C. F. Cook.

A complete schedule of registration plans and school holidays will be announced at a later date, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Johnson, Jo Lynn and Tommy visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom McLaughlin, of Pampa.

FAIRVIEW NEWS...

By Mrs. Elmer Joiner

I refuse to comment on the weather this morning, the last time I did that it got better, so anything is worth a try right now to get a rain. The little crops just up, and those plowed out, all look pretty, some maize has headed out, wheat is all out with the ground broken.

The best news out our way is about our friend and neighbor, George Wainscott, who has been seriously ill in Hendrick Hospital, having spent 36 days there this last time. Last Tuesday he started getting better and once the healing started, he got better quickly, being able to come home Sunday morning. After two operations followed by complications, the last stay was of thirty six days. This time last week his condition was very serious, this week he is home, showing how quickly our old bodies can respond sometimes, We are all so glad for him and his family, and hope for him a speedy recovery from here out.

We also wish to report on the condition of another old friend and neighbor of our community, Miss Berdie Agnew, who recently had surgery at Scott and White clinic at Temple. She had a benign tumer removed from her neck. She has been recuperating in Stamford at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ira Treadwell, and is doing well after having some complications. Miss Agnew teaches physical education in the Denver City school system, in far West Texas. This in itself is almost a miracle, since she has gone through more major surgeries than she would like to admit, in her search for health, and we know how bad health plagued her youth, for she used to scare me to death when we were girls. By grit and determination and the grace of God she has overcome sickness and led a wonderful life. We know she is a little shy about praise, but we all think a woman that has helped this world as much as she has by living in it, should have a great big bouquet.

Linda Goodwin and the other two girls that were with her, returned home Friday from Norman. Okla. where they attended twirling school. They reported a very nice time, meeting girls from several states.

The Tri-Church W. M. U. met at Neinda last Wednesday morning with seven women in the meeting, two caring for the several children present. A good program was enjoyed on "My Family-Witnessing in the Community". The next meeting will be on July 13, with Fairview Church. This will be the night meeting.

Mrs. Woodrow Goodwin and Mrs. Winson Gray attended the monthly meeting of the workers conference, held in Trinity church, in Stamford, last Tuesday. They also met with the W. M. U. at 5:30 and reported a very nice program.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Joiner were Hamlin visitors again over the weekend, having come for their children, Jerry and Susan, who had spent two weeks here. Ronald Joiner, Stamford, spent two days last week with his grandparents and playing with his little cousin, Susan.

Jimmy Wainscott left Monday to return to his base in the Hawaiian Islands, after a months furlough. Since he acquired a wife while home leaving will be extremely hard, but when Uncle Sam says come back, all you can do is go. At least he can leave knowing his Dad is better, there is always something good about everything.

Mrs. Woodrow Goodwin and Mrs. Elmer Joiner attended the wedding in Anson, Saturday night, of Dorcas Sealy and Wayne Deitrich which was held in the First Baptist Church. The vows were read by Dr. Lindell O. Harris, professor of Bible at Hardin Simmonds University, the received a B. S. degree in elementary education. She has taught in the Dallas Independent School district the last four years. The groom is a native of Evanston, Ill.

Mrs. Doyle Combs, Brenda and Sherry, also Ricky Craig, were Friday night visitors of the Woodrow Goodwins. The Combs still live at Strawn, where they publish the Strawn reporter and Rev. Combs pastors the New Hope Church. which is located in that vicinity. This is a church of 52 members.

Mr. and Mrs. Winson Gray went to his parents, the E. C. Grays, Sunday afternoon to visit and meet with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gray, from Los Angeles, Calif.

THE HAMLIN HERALD

Jane Hopper In Auto Accident

Jane Hopper, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie B. Hopper, was injured in a car-truck accident in Feasterville, Pa., while on a trip with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Gene Hopper and boys.

No one was seriously hurt but Mrs. Hopper was hospitalized three days with some broken ribs. The car was reported a total loss. After visiting Mrs. Hopper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Katra in Feasterville, they plan to tour New York, Washington, D. C., and go to the Atlantic Ocean before returning home the end of this month.

Gene Hopper is with the U. S. Army and is stationed at Fort Hood.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Faulkenberry have returned from a vacation which included visits in the homes of a daughter, Mrs. J. C. Kinsey, and a son, Leroy Faulkenberry, both of Imperial, and a grandson, Billie James Kinsey, in Ft. Stockton. They also toured El Paso and Mexico.

A Life Saver

Parents would not dream of permitting their children to venture out on the waters without some protection. Yet, only too many of these same parents do not prepare their children for the dangers of everyday life. The Bible says:

"Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand."

Begin now, to safeguard your children by taking them to church.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH — THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Research Shows Bollworms Have Resistance to Most Insecticides

The battle between cotton farmers and insects goes on. In some cases it seems that no sooner is a good insecticide developed than the persistant cotton insects develop an immunity to it, says Jones County Agent, Kirby Clayton. And so the fight continues — the farmer holding the upper hand for a while, then the insects.

From Texas A & M University comes the latest report on resistance of the bollworm and tobacco budworm to chemical insecticides. It's not good.

Texas A & M researchers, Perry Adkinson, professor, and S. J. Nemec, Research assistant, have completed work indicating the bollworm have developed a temendous resistance in the last few years to the most commonly used insecticides.

They say the main reason most growers prevented damaging loses last year with insecticides was because the insect population was small. The A & M researchers say effective control this year will be difficult if a full-scale insect attack comes and if growers use insecticides to which insects have become immune.

In A & M tests to determine resistance, the bollworm and tobacco budworm were raised on a wheat germ diet at College Station. Then, various insecticides were applied to the insects and the number of deaths recorded 48 hours after treatment.

In 1964 tests, A & M researchers noted a 90 percent kill on bollworms with Toxaphene — DDT, Strobane — DDT and endrin. Sevin had a 93 percent kill in 1964.

The picture worsened in 1965. In these tests, Toxaphene — DDT and endrin had only a 52 percent kill on bollworms. Strobane — DDT had only 47 percent kill and Sevin showed a 76 percent kill.

It's the same story for budworms. In all cases, the insects were more resistant to the insecticides in 1965 than in 1964.

A report issued by A & M notes the bollworm is 33 thousand times as resistant to DDT now as in 1960. Bollworms are 13 times as resistant to endrin, 20 times as resistant to strobane — DDT, 11 times as resistant to toxaphene — DDT and 4.5 times as resistant to Sevin as they were in 1960.

What does this mean to the farmer? According to Jones County Agent, Kirby Clayton, it means some of the previously used insecticides wont's do the job this year if there is high insect population. Clayton said it means farmers should follow Extension recommendations on which insecticides to use.

He said the Extension recommendations this year for bollworms and budworms are: Strobane — DDT — methyl parathion or Azodrin.

At A & M, researchers have combined several insecticides in an attempt to come up with a winning combination to effectively control the pests.

In the 1965 tests, results indicate methyl parathion mixed with endrin, Sevin, Strobane — DDT or toxaphen — DDT show promise for controlling the two species. Azodrin alone was a potent killer of bollworm and tobacco budworm larvae when used in suitable dosages.

This year, no doubt, insects may be even more resistant — cotton growers are going to have to be wide-awake to stay ahead in the battle.

County-Wide Meet

"Emotional Problems and What Can Be Done" will be discussed by Dr. Max Leach, head of the Physcology Department at ACC, at a county wide meeting on Tuesday June 28 at 2:30 at the Anson First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall, according to Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones county home demonstration agent. Everyone is invited to attend this meeting that was recommended by the Jones county Home demonstration women and the Program Building Committee. Refreshments will follow the meeting.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

....Austin — State Board of Insurance is disturbed over the "growing tendency" of some insurance companies to cancel out or refuse to renew auto coverage on certain classes of drivers.

At its mid-week (June 15) rate hearing Board debated whether it should ask for new legislation or put into effect new administrative regulations to deal with the situation.

Board Chairman Wm. Hunter McLean said more and more drivers are being forced into higher-cost "assigned risk plan" coverage because of "unwillingness of companies to voluntarily issue insurance to young drivers, older drivers and drivers with poor driving records."

Another insurance rate boost is anticipated due to increasing accidents, injuries and traffic deaths, and higher repair and hospital costs. Rates were boosted 13.4 per cent in 1965.

McLean placed these among items for consideration at the mid-week meeting:

Revival of a "penalty system" based on number of accidents and serious traffic violations in figuring rates. A version of the system was abanded four years ago after a brief trial and strong public opposition.

Alteration of the assigned risk plan to force all companies to take a proportionate share of "sub-standard" risk coverage.

Action to curb mass cancellation due to class, age, territory or agency and individual cancellations of policies of those who have no record of accidents or moving traffic violations.

Request for more uniform traffic regulations and enforcement procedures from county to county.

Modifications in methods of classifying drivers.

Board wants to find a way to 'avoid further 'drying up' of the insurance market," emphasized McLean.

Companies writing auto insurance in Texas lost $13,000,000 last year on the coverage. McLean calculated earned premiums at $417,200,000, net premiums at $388,000,000, losses at $233,200,000, loss settlement, adjustment and litigation expenses at $42,600,000 and company "expenses" at $125,000,000.

He termed "an all-out, effective traffic accident prevention program" the state's "single greatest need."

McLean said he would urge the insurance industry to take the lead in "bringing safety to our streets and highways."

New Taxes? — A state tax rate boost next year is inevitable, according to House Speaker Ben Barnes.

He predicted the 60th Legislature will "definitely face tax legislation."

Barnes declared that increasing cost of education alone will "require additional monies raised by taxes." Forty-eight per cent of every tax dollar paid to the state goes to education, he noted.

In a brief preview of his own ideas for legislative action, Barnes said he will ask an increase in juvenile parole officers to help curb teenage crime. He noted a study committee is exploring possible need of legislation dealing with obscene and pornographic publications.

Only Minor Insect Damage Reported By Survey Team

The Insect Survey team, composed of James Kyzar and Donald Flemming checked 28 cotton fields in Jones County this past week and reported only minor damage from cutworms, army worms, fleahoppers, and thirps according to Jones County Agent, Kirby Clayton. One field, on the Bernea Reed farm, near Hamlin, thirps were reported rather severe and causing some stunting of young cotton.

The cotton insect team is working under the supervision of Jones County Agent, Kirby Clayton and is sponsored by The Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

County Agent, Kirby Clayton urges farmers to be on the lookout during the next two weeks for overwintered weevils. If they appear in the fields, farmers are urged to spot treat the first few rows near the hibernation areas with a reccommended insecticide before squares reach the one third grown stage to prevent egg laying. This practice could prevent several sprayings in later season.

County 4-H Dress Revue Planned In Anson July 7

The Jones County 4-H Club Dress Revue will be held on Thursday, July 7th at 2:30 at the Anson First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall, according to Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County Home demonstration agent.

There will be a 9,10, and 11 year old group for the Junior girls and a Senior group for the 14 years old and older. There will be entry prizes for all entering. The senior girls will turn in records.

The younger girls just beginning sewing may enter a sewing box or an apron.

Judging of the garments and the sewing boxes will be done on Thursday morning at 9:30 in the home demonstration agent's office.

The score card for judging a 4-H Dress Revue includes construction, the outfit on the girl, and the girl's grooming, poise and attitude.

The 1966 Jones County 4-H Dress Revue is being sponsored by the United Industries company.

Spin-Fishing Tip—Those loose coils of line that form around your spinning reel spool, when you're retrieving a surface lure, may be avoided by putting more tension on the line as you reel it in.

You can keep up this tension with the fingers, or by holding the rod tip high.

Clean That Fly Line—You can get the same results, if not better, by cleaning a fly line well, instead of dressing it with floatant. Quite often the floatant collects dirt which weights the line.
